

HUN-REN Supported Research Groups Programme

According to information received from HUN-REN management, HUN-REN aims to synchronize the research groups launched in 2022 and 2024, with the programmes ending uniformly on 31 December 2027, so that the next application cycle would be launched at the same time.

In line with this, the Supported Research Groups Office (TKI) has begun developing a new application system for research groups starting their work on 1 January 2028, in all three major scientific fields: STEM, LIFE, and SHAPE.

The calls are expected to be publicly announced in the fourth quarter of 2026, thus ensuring sufficient preparation time for applicants.

According to the plans, the employment of young researchers will be a priority among the application criteria. HUN-REN expects that future projects will be implemented with the involvement of multiple sources of funding, as one of the main goals of the TKI is to support world-class Hungarian researchers.

The above information has been provided to us by Director General Prof. Dr. Zoltán Oszkár Szántó and Deputy Director General Dr. Attila Nyikos, whose quick response is greatly appreciated.
